FINANCIAL AID FOR LEARNING ACTIVITIES
(Call for Applications, 2009)

The Faculty of Mathematics has announced an additional call (2009 academic year) for financial aid for learning activities. This call is aimed at master’s degree, diploma of advanced studies (DEA) and doctoral students who are registered at the Faculty of Mathematics and could not apply for the Faculty’s regular call for research grants.

The aim is to complete students’ education, in the framework of their doctoral and master’s degree studies, through attendance and participation in specialised and/or advanced courses and schools that provides them with additional training in their areas of interest.

The approval of the thesis tutor or supervisor is required and the activity must take place in 2009.

- The financial aid consists of up to € 500 to cover travel expenses.

Submission and processing of applications

Application is open to master’s degree, DEA and doctoral students registered at the Faculty of Mathematics who could not apply for the Faculty’s regular call for research grants for research, teaching and academic staff in training.

Financial aid application forms are available at the Faculty’s research web page or can be requested or collected from the department secretaries or the Research Office, Tel: (+34) 9349034984.

Financial aid applications should be submitted to the Administration of the Mathematics Centre, Research Office, 2nd floor, Escala de Gerència, either in person or by internal mail.

Application deadline:

The call for applications is open throughout 2009.

Resolution

All applications shall be assessed by the Faculty’s Research Committee, in accordance with the criteria that it has established.

Resolutions will be evaluated at least every three months and the applicants will be personally informed of the results.
